En Galopín tenemos una conexión innata con la madera. En su primera salida al campo, el niño agarra un palo y lo convierte en caballo, bastón, espada, jabalina... Además de estimular nuestra imaginación, la madera, elemento vivo, nos conecta con la naturaleza e impulsa la biofilia. Fuente de bienestar emocional, resulta imprescindible facilitar el contacto de este material con los menores.

Elemento esencial en los nuevos conceptos de economía circular, la madera se puede reciclar indefinidamente, ayuda a reducir los gases de efecto invernadero y requiere poca energía para su transformación. Envejece dignamente con muy pocos cuidados y mantiene su robustez a lo largo de los años. Desde el principio manipulamos y tratamos la madera como lo haría un carpintero artesanal.

Esta gama presenta tres variantes, que realzan el protagonismo del material. En Natura, los postes reciben un tratamiento que acentúa los perfiles rectos y el carácter constructivo. En la variante Robinia, el respeto a la forma circular pone en valor esta madera sostenible y nos transporta a mundos de aventura y fantasía. Finalmente, y como homenaje a la Naturaleza, Ecopark convierte el diseño en una herramienta para respetar el entorno, ya que con unos elementos mínimos - cuerdas, piezas de madera - se configuran juegos certificados que parecen surgidos como una prolongación de las formas naturales del bosque.

In Galopín, we have an innate connection to wood. During a child's first outing to the countryside, he/she grabs a stick and turns it into a horse, a cane, a sword, a spear ... In addition to stimulating our imagination, wood - a living element - connects us with nature. As a source of emotional wellbeing, it is imperative to facilitate children's contact with this material.

Wood is an essential element of the new principles of circular economy. It can be recycled indefinitely, helping to reduce greenhouse gases and requiring little energy for its transformation. It ages well with very little care and maintains its robustness over the years. From the beginning, we handle and treat wood in the same way a carpenter would.

This range has three variants, each with a different starting point. In Natura, the posts emphasize straight profiles and a constructive character. In Robinia, the respect shown for the circular shape gives further value to this sustainable brand of wood and transports us to worlds of adventure and fantasy. Finally, and as a tribute to Nature, in Ecopark design acts as a tool to respect the environment; with the use of minimal elements - such as ropes and pieces of wood, certified games are created that seem to emerge as an extension of the natural forms of the forest.

Chez Galopín nous avons une connexion innée avec le bois. Lors de ses premières aventures en forêt, un garçon saisit un bâton et le transforme en cheval, canne, épée, javelot ... En plus de stimuler notre imagination, le bois nous relie à la nature... Source de bien-être émotionnel, il est essentiel de faciliter le contact avec ce matériel aux enfants.

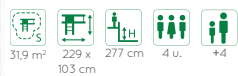

Élément essentiel des nouveaux concepts de l'économie circulaire, le bois peut être recyclé indéfiniment, contribue à réduire les gaz à effet de serre et nécessite peu d'énergie pour sa transformation. Il vieillit avec très peu de soin et maintient sa robustesse au fil des ans. Dès le début, nous manipulons et traitons le bois comme le ferait un menuisier.

Cette gamme a trois variantes, qui soulignent l'importance du matériau. Les poteaux de la gamme Natura reçoivent un traitement qui met l'accent sur les profils droits et le caractère constructif. Dans la variante Robinia, le respect de la forme circulaire donne de la valeur à ce bois durable et nous transporte dans des mondes d'aventure et de fantaisie. Enfin, et en hommage à la nature, Ecopark est conçu pour respecter l'environnement naturel, car avec des éléments minimalistes - cordes, morceaux de bois - on peut construire des jeux certifiés qui semblent avoir émergés comme une extension des formes naturelles de la forêt.
